SAN FRANCISCO - Playwrights Foundation, the West Coast's premiere launchpad for exceptional plays and playwrights, has announced the semifinalists and finalists for the 2020 Bay Area Playwrights Festival (BAPF), which is scheduled to run July 17-26, 2020. The Bay Area Playwrights Festival is one of the oldest and most successful new play festivals for new works in their developmental stages. "We are excited to shine a light on all of the talented playwrights whose plays made it to the Semifinalist and Finalist stages of our competitive play selection process for the 2020 Bay Area Playwrights Festival," says Executive Artistic Director Jessica Bird Beza, "Each of these plays have merit and represent an extremely diverse range of narratives, form, and identify that will hopefully find homes at a theatre one day when we are able to return to live performances. These playwrights are the future of the American Theatre and we are proud to help uplift their work."

After receiving 735 play submissions, the Artistic team in partnership with Playwrights Foundation's National Reading Committee of 150 volunteers from across the United States narrowed down the submissions to 135 Semifinalists. After that, in partnership with a Literary Council composed of 18 Bay Area theatre professionals narrowed the selection to 35 Finalists with a focus on diverse narratives, voices, forms, and experience levels. ## ABOUT THE BAY AREA PLAYWRIGHTS FESTIVAL

The BAPF is one of the oldest and most successful new play festival for new works in their developmental stages in the US. Established in 1976 by Robert Woodruff, the festival has continuously discovered original and distinctive new voices in the theater, invested in the development of their work and launched their careers. Among the first crop of writers at the inaugural BAPF was the young Sam Shepard. Little did Woodruff know at that time how Shepard's work would shape the landscape of American theatre. Since then, over 500 prize winning, nationally significant playwrights got their first professional experiences at the BAPF. Examples include Pulitzer Prize winner Nilo Cruz and Annie Baker, MacArthur Award winners Anna Deavere Smith and Sam Hunter, recent Glickman award winners Peter Nachtrieb, Liz Duffy Adams, Aaron Loeb, Chris Chen, Lauren Yee, and Marcus Gardley, as well as the early development of works by David Henry Hwang, Paula Vogel, Claire Chafee and Anne Washburn. Additional playwrights include Katori Hall and Rajiv Joseph prior to their Broadway debuts and many others. The BAPF's ongoing success in discovering and supporting exceptional, newly emerging writers and launching their ground-breaking new work is its enduring legacy.

ABOUT PLAYWRIGHTS FOUNDATION

Founded in 1976, Playwrights Foundation is today widely recognized as one of the top new play incubators in the U.S., dedicated to the creative development and career acceleration of diverse contemporary playwrights. Serving emerging and mid-career playwrights, from the Bay Area and around the country, PF has identified over 500 exceptional writers early in their careers and given them space, time and professional artistic collaborators to explore new theatrical ideas free from the pressures of the marketplace for over 40 years. Playwrights it has worked with have won every award in the theater including the Pulitzer, the Obie, the National Critics Circle Award, and many more. In 2017, on its 40th Anniversary, Playwrights Foundation was recognized with a Legacy Award for its substantial impact on the field. PF has received two Glickman Awards for best new play to premiere in the Bay Area through its Producing Partnership Initiative. Among the many PF-developed works that have premiered across the country, are Katori Hall's The Mountaintop, Rajiv Joseph's Bengal Tiger at the Baghdad Zoo, Jihae Park's Hannah and the Dread Gazebo, Lauren Gunderson's The Revolutionists, Lauren Yee's King of the Yees, Bennett Fisher's Damascus, Mike Lew's Teenage Dick, and Mona Mansour's We Swim, We Talk, We Go To War, to name just a few.
